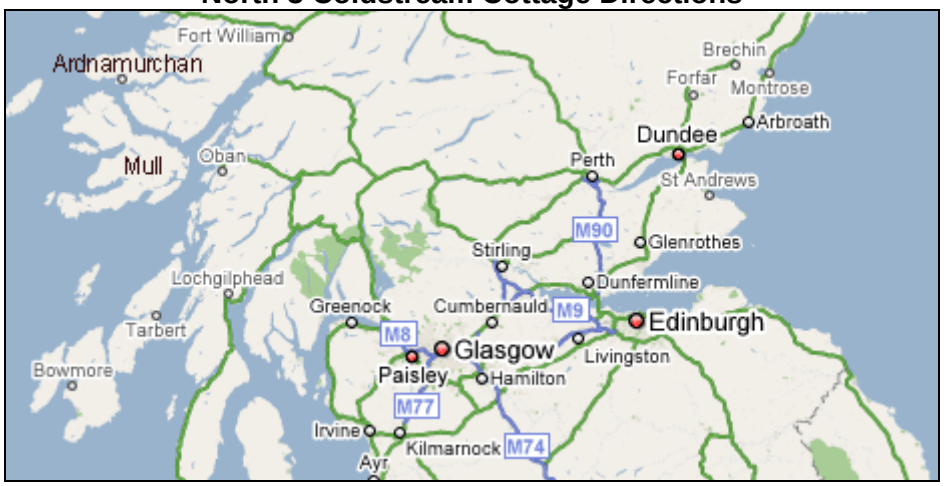
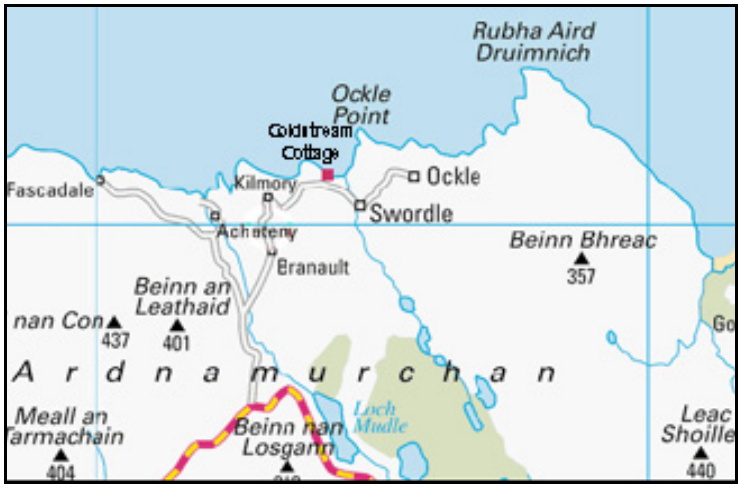
North 3 Coldstream Cottage Directions



Coming from the South there are two routes: one is to follow the A74 Glasgow/Stirling and take the M9 for Perth, then take Exit 11 to Doune/Crianlarich. Alternatively, you can cross Glasgow (by motorway and the Erskine Bridge) and drive up the shores of Loch Lomond on the A82 to Crianlarich. From Crianlarich continue north on the A82, following the signs for Fort William. Two miles after you have crossed over the Ballachulish Bridge turn left and go across the Corran Ferry. It is advisable to fill up with fuel prior to this as the Kilchoan shop and pumps are only open briefly on Sundays and fuel is sold at a premium.
From the Corran Ferry, the last 30 miles of road (from the outskirts of Strontian to Kilchoan) is single-track with many bends and consequentially slow. Coming off the ferry, turn left and head for Salen on the A861, and then turn left again, taking the B8007 to Kilchoan. Please try and leave yourself plenty of time for this part of the journey as it takes at least an hour and a half once you have crossed the Corran Ferry.



Coldstream Cottage, Achateny, Ardnamurchan, PH36 4LG

To find Coldstream Cottage: after you pass Ben Hiant (on your left) and Loch Mudle (on your right) take the turn to the right, sign posted Ockle. At the bottom of the hill, fork to the right, cross the burn, and continue on this road past Kilmory and along the coast for approx. 2 miles. Coldstream is the white cottage with yellow paintwork, and is the first house you come to on the left. The house will be open for your arrival and the key will be on the dining table.
When driving on single-track roads please remember that passing places are indicated with signs, and must be used to permit oncoming traffic to proceed and to allow following traffic to overtake. Always stay on the left-hand side of the road when using passing places. No one minds how slowly anybody else drives along these roads, so long as they pull in to allow following vehicles to pass; always be aware that the car behind could contain a doctor or a member of one of the emergency services. Never park in passing places (however beautiful the view might be!): they are not viewpoints.
